Collection Development Policy

Adopted April 6, 1982

Revised July 2023

Mission

Henrietta Public Library: where our community connects, discovers, and learns.

Introduction

- Our collection supports our mission by:
 - o Providing free access to ideas which encourage enlightened citizenship.
 - o Providing reliable information.
 - o Serving the needs of community members of all ages and ability levels.
 - o Promoting literacy.
 - o Enriching lives by providing recreational reading materials and non-print media.
 - o Expanding people's knowledge beyond their own life experiences.
 - o Offering competent representation of significant local, national, and international concerns.

The Board of Trustees supports the American Library Association Library Bill of Rights (<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/librarybill>), the Freedom to Read Statement (<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/freedomreadstatement>), and the Freedom to View Statement (<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/freedomviewstatement>).

Selection of Material

Scope

The library aims to achieve its stated objectives through a carefully selected collection of print and non-print materials chosen for values of interest, information, and enlightenment. The library strives to reflect the diverse backgrounds and interests of the community within limits of budget and space. The library does not promote particular beliefs or views; rather it attempts to provide a balanced representation of many viewpoints.

Selection will be influenced by both expressed and anticipated need. Selection of materials will be determined by usefulness and will not be limited by format.

Responsibility

Responsibility for the selection of library materials rests with the director, who is accountable to the board. Actual selection will be delegated by the director to the professional librarians.

Criteria

Selectors will consider quality, balance, equity, demand, suitability for age level, durability, and cost when adding and weeding materials from collections.

Quality

We consider materials' literary and educational merit, date of publication, accuracy, and effectiveness of presentation. We will compare materials with other published materials of the same subject through their own examination as well as guidance from reviews, awards, and recommended reading lists from established sources. We will consider the works as a whole and not on the basis of individual words, phrases, or episodes.

Balance

We strive to make sure all sides of an issue are represented within budget limitations and availability of materials. No material will be excluded because of the author's race, gender, nationality, political views, social views, or personal beliefs.

Equity

To ensure the needs of historically oppressed, underrepresented, and underserved groups are met, we include the voices of Black, Indigenous, People of Color, LGBTQ+, and people who have disabilities in library collections. Specifically, at least twenty percent of purchases will be diverse authors and creators.

Demand

We consider expressed interest by the community while remaining consistent with budget restrictions and collection balance.

Suitability for age level

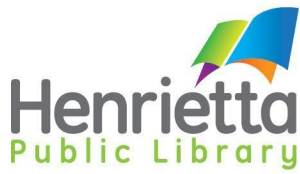

Age level specialists will consider the suitability of materials for the children's, young adult, and adult collections. However, any patron (valid card holder) may access and/or borrow from the entire collection. The library will not act in the role of censor for any age level, material type, or subject matter.

Durability and cost

The quality of technical production and cost will be considered.

Formats

The library collects books, ebooks, music CDs, films, TV series, audio books, and video games. Formats will be added as technology, need, demand, and budget permit.

Gifts

The library actively encourages donations and memorial gifts from the community. However, the same criteria used in the purchase of material applies also to gifts. The library reserves the right to dispose of or refuse gifts in accordance with established procedures.

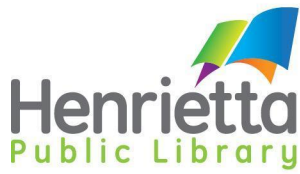

Weeding

To maintain the quality and usefulness of library materials, the professional staff will systematically evaluate the existing collection, discarding items with poor content, materials of poor/worn-out appearance, and materials that are no longer being used. Our staff uses the CREW Method¹ of weeding. Weeded material will be disposed of in accordance with established library procedures.

Request for Reconsideration

Though the library purposely selects materials for diversified readership, patrons have a right to address their concerns in accordance with the established library procedures. To begin the reconsideration procedure, please fill out and submit the attached Request for Reconsideration Regarding Library Materials form to the library director. If a Henrietta resident believes the library director has not followed this policy, they may submit a written appeal to the library's Board of Trustees.
